Local voters opt for Clinton, and most incumbents

*Turnout is high;
turnover is low*

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Maine voters did themselves proud once again on Election Day last Tuesday, turning out in the highest numbers in the nation.

But despite the anti-incumbent rhetoric during the campaign and the obvious voter dissatisfaction with the state of affairs in Augusta and Washington, the high turnout did not lead to a high turnover in office holders. Local voters—like their fellows across the nation—returned most incumbents to office.

Most that is, but not the one at the top. Area voters gave Bill Clinton a handy edge over incumbent President George Bush, but the president-elect only narrowly bested Ross Perot. Perot, in fact, came as close in Maine as he would knocking George Bush out of second place in a statewide race.

Both of Maine's congressional representatives won rather easily, although Second District Rep. Olympia Snowe's districtwide tally was less than the combined tally of her two opponents, Democrat Pat McGowan and Green Party entry Jonathan Carter. But in the SAD 44 area voters gave Snowe a clear majority over her two challengers.

There were no incumbents in either of the two local state Senate elections, but both were won by House members attempting to enter the upper chamber.

Democrat Ida Luther of Mexico defeated political newcomer Carl Hansen, R-Bethel, 10,275 to 8,164, for the District 8 Senate seat.

And Republican House member Dana Hanley of Oxford, defeated Democratic businessman James Wilfong of Stow, 11,997 to 8,746, for the District 15 seat.

In the race for the District 49 House seat, incumbent Republican Al Barth easily defeated Democratic challenger Rockie Graham, 3161 to 1894.

Education Fair Friday

An Education Fair, "Cooperating to Educate in the Telstar Region," will be held Friday, Nov. 13 at Bingham Gym at Gould Academy.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony at 4 p.m. will kick-off the fair, which features exhibits by more than 25 non-profit educational providers, as well as several presentations and demonstrations.

Invited to serve as ribbon-cutters at the Education Fair are William Clough, headmaster at Gould Academy and Gwyneth Bohr and Charles Raymond, co-chairs of the Bethel Area Task Force's Education Group, which is sponsoring and financing the fair.

The task force will also produce an educational resource directory for distribution to attendees.

The fair will run from 4 to 8 p.m. There is no admission charge, and refreshments will be sold by the Telstar Boosters Club.

Chapman pleads innocent

By LISA WILLIAMS ACKLEY

A Gilead man charged with shooting his sister's fiancé to death with a 12-gauge shotgun Oct. 8 pleaded innocent at his arraignment on the murder case Friday morning in Oxford County Superior Court.

In a clear voice, David Chapman responded "not guilty" when asked by Justice Roland A. Cole to answer to the charge of murder lodged against him.

Chapman, who has been held without bail since his arrest for the murder of Richard "Richie" Hutchins, 28, also pleaded innocent to one count of possession of a firearm by a felon Friday. Justice Cole ordered that Chapman continue to be held without bail.

Hutchins' body was discovered behind the home he shared in Gilead with Chapman's sister, Susan. Hutchins' cousin and neighbor, Tony Bennett, made the discovery in the woods behind the home on Northwest Bethel Road after he went looking for Hutchins.

Chapman's court-appointed attorney, John Jenness of South Paris, told the court his client is currently serving a 60-day sentence at the Oxford County Jail for a probation violation.

Chapman's girlfriend, Caroline J. Sweetser, testified at a probable cause hearing in mid-October that, while she did not see Chapman leave the home they shared with the 12-gauge shotgun, she heard him loading it in their bedroom and said the gun was not in the house after Chapman left.

Sweetser said after Chapman left, she called Ritchie Hutchins and told him Chapman was on his way over with a gun.

Sweetser said Hutchins "wasn't calm, he was hyper" when he said to her, "Is that right?" she said, "The receiver went click and that was it." Police later recovered the shotgun from a bag behind Sweetser and Chapman's home. A state firearms examiner has determined that the shotgun has been matched with a spent shell casing found near Hutchins' body.

Schachter hearing continues Thurs. Saturday detention defended

By CAVENAUGH KELLY

It will take at least one more session for a specially appointed moderator to decide whether or not former Andover administrative assistant Rebecca Schachter was justly fired.

Moderator Ronald Lebel heard over three hours of testimony Monday night regarding the Andover selectmen's September firing of Schachter.

Testimony was heard from selectmen Brian Mills and Raymond Hutchins. The meeting is expected to conclude with a second session at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Town Hall. Lebel said he may make his decision Thursday after hearing both sides of the issue.

Monday, speaking before about 40 Andover residents, Chairman of the Selectmen Mills gave nearly three hours of testimony. Selectman Hutchins was questioned briefly by the selectmen's attorney Michael Steven before the meeting was adjourned.

Schachter's attorney, Robert Hark, did not begin his side of argument Monday.

Mills said Schachter was given a written reprimand during the summer and a reason for her termination in September.

"The reason we gave her that night (she was fired) was we felt she wasn't cooperating and working fully with the board," Mills said.

Hutchins was avoiding the town office, Mills said, so he would not have to face Schachter.

Mills said, because the selectmen were trying to take on more responsibilities traditionally done by Schachter, they felt the need to reduce her hours.

Schachter also had problems keeping up with the minutes and

And miles to go before I ski ... Sunday River claims Sugarloaf is way off

By LIZ CHAPMAN

Maine's two largest ski resorts are arguing over the honesty of a radio advertisement, and the Maine Attorney General's Office has been called in to settle the dispute.

Sunday River Ski Resort filed a formal complaint with the AG's Office against Sugarloaf USA of Carrabassett Valley, charging that a Sugarloaf radio ad "misrepresented the truth" about the resort's available skiable terrain and the traveling distance from Portland to Carrabassett Valley in Franklin County.

Sunday River also challenged Sugarloaf's claim that it was the first ski area in Maine history to open in October.

In separate interviews Friday, spokesmen for both resorts traded allegations about the accuracy of the radio ad.

"We're very concerned there's some deliberate attempt to mislead" the public, said Sunday River spokesman Skip King.

"We stand by everything we said," countered Sugarloaf spokesman Chip Carey.

"Sunday River's concern is a pattern by Sugarloaf of misrepresentation. That's what's going on here," King said.

"Quite frankly," responded Carey, "what you have here is a ski area trying to manipulate the media ... Now that Sugarloaf is on the rebound now that we've reorganized, they (Sunday River) don't have the airwaves all to themselves anymore and people are nervous."

Assistant Attorney General Francis Ackerman confirmed the complaint had been received Friday, but declined comment on what action the state would take in the dispute.

As of early this week, King said, Sunday River had not received word on what action the Attorney General's Office planned to take on the matter.

Sunday River asserts that the Sugarloaf ad violates Maine law because it provides "false and misleading information."

The focus of the debate centers on an ad which began running Wednesday on three Portland radio stations and another in Skowhegan. The Sugarloaf ad says the resort is only 35 miles farther than Sunday River from Portland; that it offered skiers 2,000 feet of skiable terrain this week; and that it opened Oct. 31 for the earliest opening in Maine ski history.

JASON ROWLAND'S FAMILY SAYS THANKS

To the Editor:

This year Thanksgiving will mean something very special to the Jason Rowland family.

We want to thank all the wonderful people in the Bethel and Rumford area that helped and were there for him. Your generosity will never be forgotten, ever.

On Sept. 6 my son Jason was brutally stabbed by a crazed man off the street at a Dunkin' Donuts shop in Manchester, N.H. where Jason was working.

The sick, numbing, terror feeling, looking at my son on a respirator and every other living device they had connected to him to keep him alive was almost unbearable. But with the quick thinking of a man, Richard Philibert, that just happened to come into Dunkin' Donuts, tackled the assailant and held him until the police arrived. And Dianna Lamb, the lady that acted by grabbing Jason and holding onto and applying pressure to his wounds all the while calling 911. The Chaulk Ambulance crew of Manchester, the fantastic and, yes, miracle Dr. Thomas R. Molano and medical staff in the intensive care unit at the Elliot Hospital, Manchester that kept my son alive.

To watch my son progress before my eyes that long week, I will never ever forget. And to watch him walk out of the hospital doors a week to the day of the incident a true miracle, as quoted by the doctors and staff.

A very special thanks to Conni and Ted St. Pierre of Toumaline Music at the Outlook Studio who organized a benefit concert for Jason on Oct. 24 and, with the generous donations from so many of you good people, presented him with a brand new drum set that night.

The fantastic raffle items donated by this community shows how they care about their people: Sunday River Ski Resort, Maine Nordic Ski Council, Joe Perham, Friends Carpentry, Mt. Mann, Four Season Inn, The Sudbury Inn, Going Home Restaurant, Hawk Haven Products, Bonnama Pottery, Ultimate Airways, Diana Rowe, IV Corners too, DeCor Video, Maine Line Products, Bad Habits Records, Ladies Choice, Rock Enterprise, Toumaline Music and Connie St. Pierre.

EDUCATION FAIR

To the Editor:

For several months, as a member of the Bethel Area Task Force's Education Group, I have worked with others in that group to learn more about the resources around our region which enhance the learnings of our neighbors of all ages.

We had left the Community Conference last November with the vision that the beginning of the new century, all ages of people would be teaching and learning side by side—a community event. Our first step was to start some sort of inventory of what exists. This information we obtained by interviewing representatives from many organizations and agencies—some specifically educational institutions—and some which were teaching and adding to our understandings less formally.

The information we gathered has been condensed by me into a booklet for unveiling at the fair. It is largely of my own preparation—condensing, computing, and making of many errors or omissions. Of this I am apologetic, and am glad we are calling this our "first draft," and are open to items from other groups we did not reach the first time around.

As we move into the last week before our region-wide education fair, I want to share the sense of amazement I have for the variety of the efforts of the more than two dozen groups which will be represented at the fair. We have more than one of some types of groups, such as four historical societies. But, each is unique in its special offerings.

We hope that visitors to the Fair will roam the aisles, ask questions; offer their own expertise; stop to watch demonstrations, and enjoy a hot dog with their friends or family. Please come: Bingham Gymnasium, Friday, Nov. 13 from 4 to 8 p.m., co-sponsored by the Bethel Area Task Force and SAD 44.

CRAFT FAIR THANKS

To the Editor:

Thank you to all who helped make our seventh annual C.P.S. Craft Fair a huge success once again. Many people braved the cold day to buy or browse from the wide selection of crafts made by crafters set up in the cafeteria, gymnasium and hallways of Telstar. Our own C.P.S. students also made crafts for the occasion.

The C.P.S. Parent Teacher Association sponsored an outside activity in conjunction with the fair. Hay rides were available throughout the day.

You couldn't have missed our sign advertising the big day if you had driven by Telstar in the last few weeks or so. Donny Katlin (Nick and Eben's dad) did a fantastic job. Thank you, Donny, for your time and generosity!

Parents, teachers and students certainly played an important part in the success of this event. The food donated to the food tables was abundant and tasty. Student council members, under the guidance of their adviser Ellen Greeke did a fine job at tending the lunch table and popcorn machine (owned by Mountain View Store). The baseball card tables manned by members of the C.P.S. Baseball Card Club also did an outstanding job.

Many volunteers came to our rescue Friday after school to help set up. Others helped early Saturday morning, and throughout the day. Thank you to those who volunteered with face painting, balloons, raffles, C.P.S. tables, cleaning up and everything else.

A sincere thank you to the following businesses who so graciously helped to support the Crescent Park School: Sunday River, Western Maine Supply, True North Adventureware, Telstar Video, Fashion Basket, The Wood and Glass Gallery, Red Top Truck Stop, Maine Line Products, Mountain View Store/Sandy's Restaurant, Groan and McGurn, Pleasant River Chinese Restaurant, Ta-ka-radi, Prebs, Carmellas, Keenan Auction Company, Pleasant River Trading, Brooks Brothers and the Unicorn Flower Shop.

Thank you all.

FUNDRAISER SUCCESS—Scores of people attended the largest ever Crescent Park School Annual Craft Fair Saturday. Here Sheri, left, and Santana Cordova sell student crafts at the fair. About 40 other tables featured all sorts of home-made crafts, jewelry, toys, knit items and more. CPS Principal David Murphy said the school netted approximately $1,500 from the event. Students, staff and parents sold hot dogs, popcorn, soda, baseball cards, student crafts, school shirts and home-made bake goods. The money raised will be used for special events and projects at the school, Murphy said. (Photo by Jean Bolesema)

Welcome to the Big House

By MIKE BROWN

The candidates-elect to the 116th Maine Legislature might compare their winnings to a new car in the driveway the morning after election. It's a great sight from the living room window—but on closer examination the legislative coupe has no tires, no steering wheel and 200,000 miles on the engine. The chassis is a lemon.

Well, maybe not quite that bad. After all, new legislators, as selected politicians, will quickly learn that no two issues will be so far apart that they can't straddle them.

New legislators should be warned, however, that life at the State Capitol has both rewards and punishments. The biggest whipping is that legislators can do no right, according to the folks back home who did, and did not, elect them. And the frustration comes when legislators realize there's not much they can do about it. The reward is that legislators can hide in the State House.

The 116th is double trouble because the state is broke. This term's theme will be not what legislators can do for their constituents, but rather how much their constituents can stand in new taxes.

New legislators will be told that they must raise nearly $3 to 4 billion just to keep the government store open. And some legislators may be surprised to learn that only they and their colleagues make all the laws and mandate all the taxes. The bottom line is 186 legislators who have the power of attorney over 2.2 million citizens.

Being a legislator means sitting in one hard chair or another for 90 percent of their time listening to one group or another trying to influence their vote. There are times when one group, lobbyists, actually buy votes on the legislative future's vote exchange.

Most of legislative working time will be spent in at least one committee to which legislators have little choice in membership. New legislators soon learn that the process is run by leadership, the fiefdom, which makes all appointments according to its wishes—not theirs. It's sort of like the old Army. If you wanted to be a tank driver, the Army made you a cook.

New Republican representatives will find the majority House of Democrats not unlike a boot camp and that John Martin, if he so chooses to re-enlist, will be their two-year drill instructor. Re-recruits will speak only when recognized, wear a tie and jacket, never chew gum nor speak evil of Democrats while in the barracks of Di Martin.

New senators in the minority will find their quarters a converted clothes closet manned by a couple of hat check staff. The majority quarters, starting with the spacious sunnyside south suite of the President, is condo comfy with plenty of staff gofers including overpaid aides to write personal press releases.

New legislators may have a tough time finding the State House press. First, because there aren't many. And second because their quarters are underground and unmarked. The resident State House press should be defined. There is the Associated Press and the daily newspaper press. There is the Maine Times press which writes self-described "expert" advocacy journalism which is an euphemism for liberal Democrat. There are two independents, Mal Leary and myself. The mule train television press comes and goes depending on what it considers a good 10-second sound bite day. On a bad day they make one up.

The press, which skulks around the State House, is often mistaken for lobbyists. New Legislators can tell the difference by the dress. Lobbyists wear lawyer grey suits, matching socks, silk ties and L.L. Bean tassel loafers. They keep their $100-an-hour log sheets by Rolex. None of the press owns a suit. Most wear Herman Survivor hiking boots, belt-less Dockers, Reny flannel shirts and Timex watches. The second floor belongs to the Republicans for at least two more years. Gov. Jock McKernan lives there when he isn't gallivanting about the country trying to line up a job for 1994. Democrats found on the second floor should admit they got lost looking for the bathroom. Word gets back very quickly to the third floor D-fifedom about second floor Democrats.

And lastly, there is no consumer warning posted on the State House cafeteria door (also known as the Bay of Pigs) so new legislators may want to brown bag it for a while. With $70 a day eat n' sleep expense money, legislators can put a pretty fair brown bag together.

Welcome Freshman Class to the Big House. (Veteran newsmen and columnist Mike Brown writes regularly on the Augusta political scene. His views are his own and do not necessarily reflect those of The Citizen.)

In filing the complaint Friday, Sunday River said it could prove that none of the claims were true. King said he and other Sunday River officials worry that the "misleading" ads will damage the credibility of all Maine ski industry ads.

In conjunction with filing the complaint with the AG's Office, Sunday River officials say they notified the four radio stations and asked that the Sugarloaf ads be immediately withdrawn.

As of Tuesday, however, the ad was still running on at least some of the stations.

Sunday River also responded with its own ad, claiming "we're too busy to blow smoke. We blow snow instead."

The ad also claims that Sunday River now has twice as much snow as any other ski area in Maine, twice as deep, and on twice as much terrain—and that Sunday River is more than an hour closer to Portland than Sugarloaf.

Sugarloaf spokesman Carey said Sunday River's complaint was a "nuisance" and that the Newry Ski operators "are trying to make a mountain out of a mole hill."

Carey said he drove the two primary routes from Portland to Sunday River and Sugarloaf and found that skiers have to drive 35 miles more to ski at Sugarloaf than Sunday River. King maintains the distance is 51 miles.

Carey said that prior to the end of construction on Routes 4 and 27, skiers were routed through Augusta, which added an extra 16 miles to the trip. Carey said he believed Sunday River officials were using the Augusta route in saying Sugarloaf is 51 miles farther than Sunday River. But Sunday River spokesman King said that despite the different mileage counts, both resorts used the same route to measure travel distance from Portland.

Carey said Sunday River has promoted the "perception that (Sugarloaf) is a lot farther away" and used that as a "key point" in its marketing strategy.

Carey also asserted that the radio ad's claim that Sugarloaf offered 2,000 vertical feet of skiable terrain was accurate. He said that on Wednesday morning, Sugarloaf officials decided that 400 feet of the open trails were "unsafe" because of Tuesday night's freezing rain storm. He said the terrain was nonetheless open to skiers.

"The trail was 100 percent skiable," Carey said.

Sunday River's King said he checked with Sugarloaf's telephone snow report and its front desk personnel and determined that Sugarloaf had only about 1,600 feet of terrain available to skiers.

King also disputed Sugarloaf's claim that it was the first ski area in Maine History to open in October. King said Sunday River offered Halloween skiing from Oct. 31 through Nov. 2 back in 1975. Carey countered that if Sunday River "wants to play that game," he could remember that Sugarloaf was open for skiing for two weeks in August one year.

Sugarloaf opened this year on Oct. 31. Sunday River opened on Nov. 1.

Both resorts encompass about 7,000 acres of land, according to the spokesmen. Sunday River offers 72

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

More than 60 people attended the November monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society, held Thursday evening in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, to hear Mary C. Keniston discuss the history of the Grover Hill section of Bethel.

Mrs. Keniston's presentation was illustrated with a wide variety of contemporary and historical slides, photographs which brought to all of those attending an appreciation of the changes that have occurred here since Bethel's earliest days. Long an important agricultural area (particularly for apple growing), Grover Hill continues that tradition, although most of the farms that once dotted the landscape are gone. Much of the countryside has grown up to trees, and the vistas that were once enjoyed by resident and visitor alike are today much more limited. Mrs. Keniston was assisted in her research and presentation by Society Curator of Collections Randall H. Bennett.

Several ironies were noted during the evening. Grover Hill really is a series of six hills. It was named for John Grover, who never lived there. The Grover Hill Road was once three different roads, one connected with Albany, one with Skillingston, and the present road. The first two have long since been disconnected and are no longer town roads.

During the business portion of the meeting Society president Jane Hosterman announced that the next meeting will be held on Dec. 3 and feature the annual "Christmas with the Masons." The "Artifact of the Month" was announced by Mrs. Hosterman as the charter of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club of East Bethel dating from the late 1920s from an anonymous donor. Society Curator of Collections Randall H. Bennett made several announcements including the report of the Maine Olmstead Alliance, a new group dedicated to documenting the state's historic landscape architecture, which in Bethel has surveyed the Bethel Hill Common, Kimball Park and the Civil War monument.

WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

More than 60 people attended the November monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society, held Tuesday evening in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, to hear Mary C. Keniston discuss the history of the Grover section of Bethel.

Keniston's presentation was illustrated with a wide variety of temporary and historical slides, photographs which brought to all of the attending an appreciation of the changes that have occurred here in Bethel's earliest days. Long an important agricultural area (particularly for apple growing), Grover Hill maintains that tradition, although some of the farms that once dotted the landscape are gone. Much of the landscape has grown up to trees, the vistas that were once enjoyed by resident and visitor alike today much more limited. Mrs. Keniston was assisted in her research and presentation by Society Director of Collections Randall H. Bennett.

Several ironies were noted during the evening. Grover Hill really is a series of six hills. It was named for Grover, who never lived there. Grover Hill Road was once one of the different roads, one connected to Albany, one with Skillington, the present road. The first two long since been disconnected are no longer town roads.

During the business portion of the meeting, Society president Jane Bertram announced that the next meeting will be held on Dec. 3 and will be the annual "Christmas with the Masons." The "Artifact of the Month" was announced by Mrs. Bertram as the charter of the Society Clover 4-H Club of East Bethel dating from the late 1920s and an anonymous donor. Society Director of Collections Randall H. Bennett made several announcements including the report of the Olmstead Alliance, a new group dedicated to documenting the historic landscape architecture which in Bethel has surveyed Bethel Hill Common, Kimball and the Civil War monument.

From the Bethel Police log:

Locked windows foil burglar; tractor-trailer spills oil

A Clark Street resident reported an attempted burglary last Monday. The woman told police that someone had cut the screen off her bathroom window and pried the storm window up six inches. She said someone had also tried to push up a storm window in the dining room. The report said no one gained entry because the inside windows were all locked.

Police responded to a report last Tuesday of a smoking tractor-trailer truck traveling west on Route 2. The driver told police he had blown his turbo unit. Officer Darren Tripp reported that one-half to one gallon of motor oil was on the ground under the truck. He contacted the Department of Transportation and asked for sand to cover the spill. Bethel Fire Chief Jim Young gave police "oil sponges" to contain the puddle until the sand truck arrived. Tripp also notified the Department of Environmental Protection. A DEP official told him all the necessary action had been taken.

In other police news last week, Town Manager Madeleine Henley reported Wednesday morning that the wooden frame on the "for sale" sign at the Bethel Industrial Park building had been torn off and dragged away.

Later Wednesday, police controlled traffic on Route 2 while a cable company repaired some downed wires.

Thursday night, Officer Anne Bertram responded to a report of a suspicious vehicle near the intersection of the Chandler Hill Road and Route 26. Bertram saw a vehicle coming out of a nearby field. Scott Berry, no residence given, told police he had permission to trap in the area and was checking his traps.

Rumford police notified Bethel police of a car/deer accident on the Sunday River Road. A Mexico woman's vehicle broke down in Rumford on her way home. She returned to the Sunday River Road and told Bethel police her car became disabled after she hit a deer. The deer was not found.

No increase in G'wood mil rate

Most Greenwood taxpayers will see no jump in their property tax bills this year.

Greenwood tax bills went out recently with no increase to last year's mill rate of $13.80 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Unless taxpayers have added increased value to their properties, their tax bills should hold steady, according to Greenwood Selectman Marie Bartlett.

"We budgeted right on the money last year," Bartlett said, "so we knew what to ask the people for. We didn't overdraw on anything. We had a lot of new buildings in town and that also helped increase revenue and keep taxes down."

Selectmen will continue to meet with the town's assessing agent, John O'Donnell, to decide what to do about the town's tax records, Bartlett said.

O'Donnell said recently that the town's records—turned in by former tax collector Herb Dunham this summer—are incomplete and out-of-date.

After meeting with O'Donnell, selectmen will decide whether or not to reevaluate part or all of the town, Bartlett said.

TRACK BOOSTERS MEET

The Track Boosters met on Wednesday, Oct. 21 in the Telstar Library.

The treasurer reported over $1,000 in the booster's account—toward the fundraising goal of $300,000.

Those in attendance were informed that in order to have voting rights on track issues a $2 membership fee must be paid to the Athletic Boosters. Also, voters need to be active participants in the various fundraising events and attend the meetings once a month.

An update on the proposed site for the track was given. John Picher from the State Department of Parks and Recreation came and walked the proposed sites. He said the best site is the area where the field hockey and softball fields are located now.

He asked for a topographic map of the area to be completed and mailed to him. Picher will then draw up plans for two different tracks that will fit in the area.

He will also inform the committee if a grant is possible from his department.

On Nov. 14 and 21 breakfasts to benefit the project will be held in the Telstar cafeteria from 4:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Tickets are $4. The menu will feature ham, beans, eggs, pancakes, homefries, coffeecake and coffee.

During November and December the Track Boosters will run a 50/50 raffle. The drawing will be held on Dec. 12.

In other business at the Oct. 21 meeting, the club is advancing in its funds to have dugouts built on the softball and baseball fields.

A donation was voted on to be given to the district's Channel IV. Lin Chapman was voted in as the new treasurer for the Athletic Boosters and Track Boosters. The two funds are separate accounts.

Upcoming dates to remember: Nov. 13: 4 to 8 p.m., Bingham Gym Education Fair. (Boosters will sell refreshments.)

Nov. 18: 6 p.m., Boosters Meeting.

Nov. 18: 7 p.m., Track Boosters meeting in Telstar library.

have 53 last resorts, then I'm very concerned. There's one student that's been four times. That doesn't seem like a deterrent to me. It seems more like a chance for people to work on a Saturday."

Superintendent Dewaine Craig walked away from his position as secretary of the board and into the audience to respond to Brown's objections.

"Last resort to us meant before suspension," Craig said. "I heard from the board 'Let's cut down on suspensions.' That's my interpretation (of Saturday detention) as a last resort."

When Andover director Brad Thibodeau asked for any positive results of Saturday detention, Assistant Principal Carroll Higgins also said the policy was an effective alternative to suspension.

"The days are over when the vice-principal or principal could stand at the door and say 'don't come back until you're ready to follow our rules.' The courts have more or less done away with that, and I'm not sure I disagree. This is an alternative that we have left to use. Saturday detention for some means a little more because they have to get up on a Saturday morning, go to school and sit with a teacher for three hours. I do think it's made an impact on some students. It's not a way to give somebody $30 on a Saturday, but it is an attempt to get some students to change their behavior. But I think $30 on a Saturday is OK even if it helps only one kid."

Proposed county budget up

Oxford County Commissioners have proposed a $2.6 million budget for 1993, which will increase 1993 taxes to be raised by Oxford County towns by $101,058.

Last Wednesday, the Oxford County Budget Committee agreed to spend $2,675,796 for 1993—$167,467 more than 1992 appropriations.

After subtracting projected revenues of $601,709, towns will be Telstar Principal Ted Davis said Saturday detention also usually forces parents to drive their children to school, which gives administrators a chance to talk to the parents about the child's unacceptable behavior.

"The teachers feel very positive about it and think that it's working," Davis said. "We hope as the year progresses that the numbers will decrease."

Other than general discussion, no board action was taken on the issue.

In other business Monday night, Craig discussed plans for the relocation of portable classrooms at the Crescent Park School during construction of the school's new addition.

Craig said CPS's six portables will probably be moved to the west side of the present building (toward Bethel Park Apartments) after school closes this year.

The entire construction site will be fenced off, and during school hours all construction traffic will enter from the back of the property off Evergreen Road, Craig said.

The board also approved Walter Springer as Telstar assistant girls basketball coach, Chris Olson as CPS basketball coach, Bernice Caddigan as Woodstock Elementary School volunteer ski coach and Larry Durgin as WES grade-three volunteer basketball coach.

Woodstock Director Marjorie Kessler and Bethel Director Cheryl Eliot were absent from Monday's meeting.

asked to pay $2,074,087 or $101,058 more than in 1992. The 1992 figure after projected revenues was $1,973,029.

The 1993 anticipated revenues include $100,000 from surplus.

The majority of the county budget increases come from the sheriff's department, which sought $1,336,139 or $94,030 more than what was appropriated in 1992.

Hearing

maintaining a log of the hours she worked, Mills said.

"You (Mills) testified she just asked you for extra hours and you turned her down?" Hark asked, "then you complained she wasn't getting the job done."

Both Mills and Hutchins said prior to her written reprimand, there were no problems with Schachter's job performance.

Hutchins said Schachter didn't want Mills to be the chairman and tried to divide the selectmen by calling the town's other selectmen and making false accusations about Mills.

"The main reason for the reprimand was her behavior toward Brian in particular," Hutchins said. "I just felt as though she was trying to divide the Board of Selectmen."

Hark cross-examined Mills extensively, trying to paint a picture of little factual basis for Schachter's firing and alleged illegal selectmen's meetings regarding Schachter.

Hark was also critical of the selectmen's decision to fire Schachter without a prior agenda item and little apparent discussion at the night of the meeting.

"I believe the evidence before you is going to leave you with more questions than the evidence is going to answer," Hark said in his opening statement.

He said selectmen failed to specify orally and in writing what Schachter was doing wrong so she could cure the problem.

"She was given no reason," Hark said. "If it was discussed over a few months, the question is, where was it discussed?"

GIFT FROM A STAR—S. Epatha Merkerson, left, recently donated five scholarships to the Explorations art program run by Aria Patch, right. Merkerson is an actress who has performed in several movies including Terminator 2, Jacobs Ladder, Navy Seals and Loose Cannons. She currently stars in NBC's Here and Now, produced by Bill Cosby. Patch said she met Merkerson in 1972, when they waited on tables together while attending Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind. Explorations is an after-school program for SAD 44 students interested in various art mediums. Students can pay a tuition fee or apply for a scholarship. The Explorations fall session will exhibit some of their works at the Bethel Inn Conference Center on Saturday, Nov. 21 from 2 to 4 p.m. There is no charge for the exhibition, and refreshments will be served.

Voting

Ida Luther's former House District 52 seat went to Republican Robert Cameron of Rumford, who bested Democrat Sonja Hodgkins of Roxbury, 2,416 to 1,783.

And Republican Brenda Birney-Quint of Paris defeated Democrat Mary Ryan Adams of Paris, 2,514 to 1,895, for Dana Hanley's vacated seat in House District 51.

In House District 49, Republican Richard Bennett of Norway was unopposed in his successful bid for reelection to a second term.

Hopes for the future

By the week after the election both the winners and losers in the two major SAD 44 area races were already looking to the future.

Luther, who served two terms in the House before seeking her Senate seat, said she hoped to be appointed to the Senate Labor Committee, and to focus her efforts for the next two years on bringing more jobs to the area.

Barth said that in his second House term he would continue to focus on constituent service and on efforts to make the state live within its means—by prioritizing state expenditures and eliminating those with low priority.

And Hansen and Graham both said their first bids for public office were not likely to be their last.

Hansen, buoyed by his strong showing in an often heated contest with Luther, said he would be keeping close tabs on developments in Augusta, especially regarding reapportionment, and would be ready to go run again in 1994.

Graham said she had enjoyed the fray and the chance to bring new people into the political process. She promised to spend the next two years building up the local Democratic organization.

Referendums

Local voters also followed the statewide pattern on the nine referendum articles. They approved bonds for dealing with municipal solid waste and pollution control facilities, but rejected the four remaining bond proposals.

And they approved all three proposed constitutional amendments.

Our Halloween party was a grand success. You should have seen the decorations. The Spook House alone was worth the trip. Community cooperation was unbelievable. Parents gave dozens of hours, businesses donated generously, and teachers participated in every phase also. Children created many of the decorations and added to the excitement of the whole affair.

We want to thank everyone who aided this project in any way. Special thanks to our community members who came in Saturday morning and judged over 80 pumpkins. How are we going to top all this next year?

All classes enjoyed the voting process and seeing their outcomes in the newspaper. Our history lessons pack more meaning when we can actually take part in the making of them.

Don't forget T-shirt and sweatshirt orders. Please turn them in before Nov. 20.

Because of all the election information two weeks ago, my column with the kindergarten news did not appear. So I will focus on the kindergarten news this week. Grades K through two enjoyed a visit recently from Mr. Tibbets of the Sheriff's Department and from Violet the Clown. Their visit included a variety of safety tips including enjoying a safe Halloween and being aware of Stranger Danger. The program included reminders for children to report strangers to someone they know and trust if they suspect any danger. Each child received neat bookmarks and a poster on safety.

Classroom news specifically from the kindergartners and Mrs. Howes contains a brief summary of what they have been doing during the first ranking period. They begin the year by learning about school behavior. They learn about raising their hands, playing quietly in the classroom, and they learn about the importance of safety and the playground rules.

They have been studying about fall and have been collecting the signs of fall: leaves, weeds, seeds, cattails, pumpkins, squash, apples and acorns. They held their Teddy Bear picnic, complete with Teddy Bears, during the second week of school. Since then they are reading lots of fairy tales. The Gingerbread Man was a favorite.

They have learned about the letters Aa, Bb, Cc, Dd, Ee, for writing, sounding and reading. They have worked with shapes: circles, triangles, squares, and rectangles, and they have been practicing their addresses and telephone numbers. They have been working with colors in science.

The kindergartners did their part for the Halloween party. They made paper ghosts with Mrs. Newmeyer and found them hanging from the pipes at the Halloween party. The class is working hard, but they are having fun too.

Mr. Burke's third-graders presented their annual homemade

Any money or candy bars that remain outstanding should be turned in to school as soon as possible. We are ready to conclude this fantastic fundraiser and want to redeem our prizes. Thanks again to all who helped with this project.

The Division of Special Education visits school districts on a five-year schedule to make sure that each district is meeting the required standards of federal and state special education law. State Review Teams include consultants from the State Division of Special Education along with selected directors and teachers.

The review consists of a "desk audit" and on-site visit. The on-site visit reviews all aspects of the special education services provided by the school district. This includes interviews with administrative and instructional staff, examination of facilities and a review of student records.

Holt has previously served on state reviews for the Carabec and Waldoboro school districts. She said the experience is invaluable because as a member of a team she is made aware of the most current state compliance expectations in terms of Special Education regulations. The SAD 72 Review is scheduled for Nov. 17-19.

spired classroom conversations comparing candidates with an innocent honesty that can be admired. The one point everyone agreed upon is the fact that the job of the president of the United States is challenging and difficult.

The issues that these students deem important are evident in the following excerpts from inaugural speeches they wrote in the first few days following the election.

"I am the president of the United States and I am expected to make this country a better place to live. This country should pull together. You are the boss and I'm just here to help. I can only do that when we work together."

"I will help scientists find a solution for AIDS and drug users. (I will) raise the fines for polluting. I won't just sit and watch while the ozone layer falls apart."

"I am setting a new law that kids age three can go to daycare. Then, when they reach the age of four, they can go to school for half of the day until they reach age five. Then they go to school for a whole day."

"I would lower taxes for all Americans because I don't think that it is fair to rich or middle class people to just lower all of the poor peoples' taxes. I will lower all taxes."

"I will also give older people a break on medicine costs and also have less taxes."

"I will try to see that our environment will get cleaned up. We will pay inventors to invent a car with a motor that will not pollute the environment."

"Furthermore, I will try to get the economy straightened out."

The town of Bethel is fortunate to have been chosen as one of several sites across the state where students actively participated in voting at the polls the day before the actual election. Citizenship is difficult to teach. It is an experience, an opportunity, a feeling of civic pride.

PROTECT AGAINST EMPLOYEE THEFT

This article is brought to you by Jane D. Gray, CPA

Employee theft happens frequently enough for it to be a concern of every business. It makes no difference whether your business is a one-employee medical office or a forty-employee retail outlet. Absentee business owners should be even more alert to this problem.

Busy managers find it easy to turn the recordkeeping over to a qualified employee. Don't do so without proper controls and constant review.

Consider these examples of the methods by which employees have been known to steal from their employers:

- Opening a checking account in a nearby community under the same name as the employer company.

- Overpaying the payroll taxes or large suppliers and asking for refunds which are then deposited in the employee's new company account.

- Convincing the employer that the independent accountant is an expensive luxury which the company can do without now that the employee is available to do financial statements.

- Soliciting the help of a supplier's employee, then overpaying the supplier and sharing the overpayment.

- Opening a checking account with the same name as the employer's major suppliers and then paying invoices twice; the first is sent to the supplier and the second is deposited in the employee's "extra supplier account."

Some small businesses have paid a high price to learn about employee theft. Don't be lulled into thinking it could never happen in your business. Consult us for assistance in setting up reasonable internal controls to guard against employee theft.

At this season of the year, the Historical Society encourages you to think of the traditions behind Thanksgiving and Christmas. Do you enjoy learning about the past and America's heritage? Then the Historical Society is designed for you. Learning is important for everyone.

The Ladies Circle Fall Sale will be held Friday, Nov. 20 beginning at 10:30 a.m. and a luncheon being served during the noon hour. The usual grabs, white elephant, food and other tables will offer a variety of items, many useful for Christmas gifts. Do come and enjoy this sale.

The Greenwood Fire Department will hold its training session at 6:30 p.m. at the fire station on Wednesday, Nov. 18.

Some members of the Cole family have not had very good luck recently. Irving Cole is recuperating from a broken left ankle and is sporting a cast from foot to knee. Stephen Cole broke his shoulder while working in the woods. He and his wife have a new baby coming so this is not the best time for this to happen--if there ever is a good time which is doubtful. We wish both men speedy recoveries.

John Mills celebrated his 66th birthday on Tuesday, Nov. 3, by first casting his ballot in the election, and then by accompanying his wife to East Sebago where they picked up his sister, Mary, and went to North Windham where Mary treated them to a nice dinner at a local restaurant and then they went shopping. It was an enjoyable day.

Helen Chase and Charlotte Cole attended the funeral of Cedric Russell at Meader's Funeral Home in Rumford. Charlotte Cole was requested to sing.

Donna Downs and Lorraine Mills visited Elvira Littlehale at Market Square Health Care Facility in South Paris on Monday. Elvira will celebrate her 93rd birthday on Nov. 21 and we'd like to see her receive many cards as she really enjoys them.

Charlotte Cole has had a busy month. She has played Happy Birthday to Ruth Tyler in Bryant Pond who recently had to have eight teeth extracted and she visited Ledgeview in Halloween costume to entertain some of the patients there and play Happy Birthday to 93 year old Bill Young. She took Vera Cross and Helen Chase to Ertan and Alberta Scribner's in Albany where they had supper and an evening of cards and music. Alberta, by the way, is much improved after fighting cancer for some time, which is good news indeed. She entertained her niece, Valerie Cole and her friends, at supper recently and she and Helen Chase attended a Past Master's Night at Oxford Grange in Oxford which began with a 6 p.m. supper.

Doris Parent and Sylvia Wight. Of the "lefties" Karlene was high on the triples with a 310 score also high on the singles with 102 and 108 strings. Of the "righties" Doris was high on the singles and triples, Karlene had two spares and two strikes, Gil one strike and two spares, Sylvia one spare, Bea one spare, Doris two spares and one strike.

The Bear River Grange will meet Saturday, Nov. 14.

The Newry Fire Dept. Ladies Auxiliary will meet Thursday, Nov. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Town Building.

Brent Bachelder and Terry O'Dowd of West Warwick, R.I. spend a weekend at Brent's mother and father's residence recently.

Bill Montgomery of Massachusetts is spending some time at his place on the Branch Road.

Did anyone tune in on channel 10 at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday for "Made in Maine" with Lou McNally? Sunday River was featured with their Mountain Bike Run and a 15 minute segment with the "Mountain Adventure" with Polly Mahoney and Kevin Slater camping, canoeing, building dog sleds and playing with their beautiful puppies. In fact, Brent, Terry, Karlene and I took a walk to see their puppies only a couple of weeks ago. Their headquarters are at the old Bachelder's Homestead just a few houses away from me.

There were 23 voters in Newry's Nov. 3 Youth Mock Election. The results were as follows:

For president-Bush, 4; Clinton, 4; Fulani, 1 and Perot 14.

For Representative to Congress-McGowan, 6 and Snowe, 16.

VFW MEETS

On Thursday, Nov. 12 the local VFW group will meet at 7 p.m. at the Evans Notch Ranger Station. The meeting agenda will include finding a new meeting location and honoring Eugene Roy.

Jackson-Silver Post

Members of the Jackson Silver Post #68 met for the first bi-monthly meeting, Nov. 4 at 7 p.m. at the Legion Hall, Gore Rd., Locke Mills. The usual formal opening was observed along with the reports of all the officers present. The financial officer, Dick Cross indicated that the Post was doing well financially.

Report on a sick member was given, indicating that Blackie Cummings was home from the hospital but some way from full recovery.

Under unfinished business a motion was made to have a formal written contract drawn up with the Passamaquoddy Indians for the use of the hall and facilities on Wednesday evenings for beano games. It was voted at a former meeting that they could use the facilities until their own facilities were completed in Albany early next year.

The motion was carried that a legal contract be drawn up by a lawyer and presented to officials of the tribe. Discussion was given to the Veterans Day Observance to be held inside at the Legion Hall, Nov. 11 at 10 a.m. Program is to be arranged by Comrade Delwood Wilson. There will be no parade this year due to the lack of a band.

Further discussion was given to the distribution of Thanksgiving baskets early Thanksgiving week. If anyone reading this column knows of families in Woodstock or Greenwood who could use a basket may notify either Edley Strickland, 665-2061 or Roland Lord, 665-2026.

It was announced that at a near date in the future the governor of the Passamaquoddy Indians is going to present a sizable donation for every Headstart Program in Oxford County.

Meeting closed by chaplain, Rodney Hanscom, leading in prayer at 8:15 p.m.

Jackson-Silver Unit

At the Nov. 5 meeting, a number of items of business were accomplished.

It was reported that sales of refreshments at the Bingo games, dances and toy auctions have been good. As a result, it was voted to give several donations: one will be to the Chapel of Four Chaplains in memory of some Post members; donations to the Togus and Maine Veterans Homes Christmas Gift Shops were increased over previous years; the usual amount was voted to be given to help the local church in preparing Christmas baskets for local shut-ins; an amount was voted to be spent for gifts for veterans at Ledgewood Nursing Home.

Among items of correspondence was a thank you note from Betsy Johnson for sending her to Girls State and inviting her and family to the dinner last month. Another was a note from Christy Cross, mother of Lisa Cross who is spending this year as an Exchange Student in France. Included was a copy of the clipping from the Bethel Citizen in which Lisa told of her experiences so far. This was by way of a thank you for assisting Lisa in raising money for her expenses. Attention was drawn to the card of thanks in the Bethel Citizen from the Greenwood Recreation Board for the Unit's contribution to their Halloween haunted house.

A membership application was received from Mrs. Jean Di Arenzo and approved. Paid membership for 1993 now stands at 61.

Upcoming events were announced as follows:

1. The Post has planned a program at the Legion Hall on Nov. 11 commemorating the end of WW II and honoring all veterans. The public is invited to attend the 10:30 a.m. event. Afterward the Auxiliary president will place a wreath at the Honor Roll, then Post and Unit members who can will pay a visit to the veterans at Ledgewood.

2. On Nov. 13 there is to be an Education Fair at the Gould Gym from 4 to 8 p.m. The Unit plans to have a display telling of Boys and Girls State, also of the Americanism Youth Conference to be held Feb. 11 through 14, 1993 at the Freedoms Foundation Campus at Valley Forge, Pa.

3. The South Paris Auxiliary Unit is hosting a Leadership Workshop on Nov. 14 and several members plan to attend. This will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. with a lunch served at noon.

Community concepts offers fuel assistance

Cold weather is approaching and many people are concerned with how they will pay for this year's fuel bills.

Community Concepts Inc., a non-profit community agency, has announced that it will again provide the federally-funded Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) in Androscoggin and Oxford Counties.

The LIHEAP program will help pay heating costs for limited-income households who own or rent their home. Renters with heat included in their rental payment, and those living in subsidized rental housing are also eligible to apply for the fuel benefit.

Community Concepts encourages people to call for an appointment between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Auburn office--795-4065
South Paris office--743-7716

Rumford office--364-3721

Those applying are asked to take along: proof of income for last three months, Social Security number, and CMP Account # if heating with electricity.

Similar to last year, people will also have the opportunity to apply for Community Concepts' RIDES program as well as the Lifeline telephone assistance program, at the time of their fuel assistance appointment.

For additional information, call the nearest office.

SMOKEOUT IS NOV. 19

Nov. 19 will be the American Cancer Society's 16th Annual Great American Smokeout. The Smokeout is an excellent opportunity for Americans to become aware of the dangers caused by smoking.

Tobacco use is now responsible for one in every five deaths in the United States, and is the single most preventable cause of death and disease in our society. Therefore, the basic premise behind the Smokeout, besides education, is to encourage people to quit smoking for 24 hours and possibly for a lifetime.

According to a nationwide Gallup survey, a record number of smokers who quit for the day continued not to smoke for one to three days more. Gallup's nationwide survey of 1,212 women and men, age 18 and over, showed: 35.5 percent (17.7 million) of the nation's smokers participated; 14.2 percent (7.1 million) smokers stayed off cigarettes for 24 hours; and 11.7 percent (5.8 million) were still not smoking one to three days later, nearly one million more than last year. The goal of the 1992 American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout is to help 25 percent of smokers give up cigarettes for 24 hours.

It is estimated there are 38 million ex-smokers in the United States. Certainly, some of them are breathing more freely today because of the Great American Smokeout.

The American Cancer Society is providing anyone who wishes to take part with information and materials. The number to call is 1-800-464-3102.

Prayer to the Holy Spirit

Oh Holy Spirit, thou who are all knowing, who brightens every path that I may reach my idea, thou who givest me this divine gift of forgiving and forgetting wrongs done unto me and who in every instant if my life art with me, I'd like in this short dialogue to affirm my gratitude for all your blessings and re-affirm once again that I never want to part from thee through the illusion of material things around. My desire is to be with thee and all my loved ones in perpetual grace. Thank you for your mercy on me and mine.
(Persons should pray 3 consecutive days without revealing petition. Within three days grace will be attained regardless of how difficult the petition may be.)
Publish this prayer once grace is attained. Grateful for grace attained C.S.
